Message From Our Minister

“Compostable Poems”

William Stanley “W.S.” Merwin grew up on the streets of New York City in the late 1920’s and early 30’s. Even though the big city was his home, he nurtured a love for the outdoors at an early age, and he was often found having in depth conversations with the trees in his backyard. His writing career began as he wrote hymns for his father, who was a Presbyterian minister. Writing certainly became a career for Merwin, as he went on to publish over 50 books of poetry. He won Pulitzer Prizes in 1971 and 2009, and was named Poet Laureate in 2010. Merwin wrote from the perspective of his Buddhist philosophy and his deep love of and connection to the Earth.

“I don’t like using the word environment. I don’t like the word nature. I don’t like using them because they make it seem as though we’re not nature. Anything we do to the rest of the world we’re doing to ourselves” (W.S. Merwin)

In the late 1970’s, Merwin and his wife Paula moved to Hawaii. They purchased a section of land on the north shore of Maui that had been deserted and unproductive. They worked to revitalize the soil and began planting palm trees. Over the course of decades, they planted thousands of trees, and the Merwin Conservancy is today one of the greatest collections of palm trees. People who were interested in the work of Merwin or the work of the Conservancy were invited to write their reflections or poems on paper and mail them to Merwin. He took great delight in walking out into the midst of the trees, reading the poems out loud, and then composting the paper into the soil for the trees. He literally turned poems into compost, and invested the poetry of so many into the soil.

Continued...

What an inspiration for you and me as we prepare for a celebration of Earth Day this month. The first Earth Day was celebrated in 1970 by an estimated 20 million Americans, on the heels of some major environmental disasters. The words that commemorated the first Earth Day soon became actions, as Congress enacted several environmental laws such as the Clean Water Act, the Clean Air Act, the Endangered Species Act, and others. The Environmental Protection Agency was also established shortly after this first Earth Day. The words of Earth Day became investments into action.

As we get ready to celebrate Earth Day on April 22, we have a mandate, a call to action for this good work. We have made much progress in the past 51 years, but we still have so much work ahead of us. May our words of celebration become compostable poems, investments in the Earth. We can make investments into the protection of our Earth and its resources. We can take action with our own choices and practices. We can offer education and inspiration to our culture. We can and will make a difference. Happy Earth Day!

2021-2022 Pledge Drive

We have been through a difficult year together. COVID both separated and joined us. We have had to socially distance and stay at home. But putting our services and meetings on zoom has allowed us to welcome participants and guests who would not have been able to travel to Heyward Street. And our zoom breakouts have resulted in groups of people speaking and chatting who might not have done so in person. Although our seven principles are intact, most of the activities supporting them have been cancelled or changed.

The term “new normal” is often used to refer to a relatively stable state reached following a period of crisis. People dealing with serious illness or loss of loved ones are often told that they will eventually find a new normal. The same applies to a society following a serious and extended disruption. However, the desire for a new normal may perpetuate the problems associated with the old normal.

As the COVID lockdown draws to a close, we can reimagine how we will act and interact. What programs and activities should we simply resume at UUCC? Is there anything we should drop? Is there anything we should add? Is there anything we should change? Should we embrace the proposed Eighth Principle? Should we continue the broader use of music sources? Should we continue to have a virtual option for services and activities? If you have some great ideas, contact a board member or committee chair.

Our new normal will not be entirely new. Almost all our budget will continue to come from pledges. And almost all our expenses will be for building maintenance and staff. If you want to see our building well maintained, we need your pledge. If you want our staff to support UUCC, we need your pledge. If you want RE programs for all, we need your pledge. If you want to support new activities, we need your pledge. If you want to continue old activities, we need your pledge.

As of Tuesday, April 13, we have received $160,182 from 74 pledge units. We thank those who have submitted their 2021-2022 pledge. But we need to hear from the rest of you. The board will be reviewing the budget later this month; the congregation will vote on it on Sunday, June 6. If we have reasonably complete information on pledges, we can do a better job of planning.

As our pledge drive draws to its end, it is important to hear from every member. If you are having financial difficulties due to the pandemic or any other reason, please contact Rev. Stephen Robinson at revstephen@uucolumbia.org, to discuss a waiver. Although we need each and every pledge, we do understand that these are unusual times and assistance may be needed by some.

Thank you,

Caroline Eastman, Chair, Finance Committee

UUCC AIDS Memorial Garden

It has been brought to the attention of the Building and Grounds Committee that we have an AIDS Memorial Garden on our grounds that was established in 1994 in memory of Sam Nickles, a member of UUCC. Sam's ashes were scattered at that time and a gift was made by his parents to UUCC for the purpose of this garden. The garden extends on a pathway running alongside the south wall of the RE wing beginning at the Japanese Torii and ending at a lovely pine tree near the playground. The pine tree has a bed of natural flowers surrounding it. There was a bench in the beginning but has since deteriorated, been replaced, and worn out again. There is also a verse faintly painted on the wall. The verse will be restored on a plaque that can be weather protected and the wall will be painted. The pathway has been cleared and further work is being done to restore this pleasant area that was intended to be a place of meditation. Few of our community have known it was there because it was very overgrown. We are hoping now to keep it well maintained and consider some type of seating that would be more durable.

Removal of Raised Bed

If you have passed by the church in the last week you will notice a change on the Heyward Street side. After much deliberation and many comments from our members it was decided by the Building and Grounds Committee that the raised bed had become very unsightly and had not been serving a useful purpose for quite some time. For this reason it is being dismantled. The water source to the bed is very poor and maintenance of any plantings is strictly volunteer. It had become impossible to manage and of course this last year with the building being closed it was at its very worst. Any plants in the raised bed needed constant attention and we simply have not been able to maintain it. Be watching as we clean up this piece of land and decisions are made to beautify it.

We are aware that there were cremains scattered in the raised bed and you will find a notice in the April Unigram in the Candles of Community section explaining what actions are being taken regarding this.

With normalcy slowly returning, we want to make sure you put our Fall retreat on your calendars. For you newcomers, our Southeastern UU region purchased a camp and conference center about 40 years ago near Highlands, NC, and named it The Mountain Retreat and Learning Center. The UUCC has had a long-time tradition of enjoying a weekend retreat at The Mountain as a congregation. This year our weekend will be Friday, September 17, through Sunday, September 19. You will be hearing more about this in future publications so watch this space for more information to whet your appetite. Please contact Joan Watterson with any questions at joan.l.watterson@icloud.com.

Work and Play at The Mountain

Twelve members of UUCC recently spent up to ten days each at The Mountain with the purpose of doing volunteer work. We had the wonderful surprise of being asked to use the beautiful new Cliff Haven residence for our center of operations. This allowed us (all of whom had received complete COVID vaccination) to safely gather for meals and some social time without masks, separate from The Mountain staff and other volunteers. After a year of being isolated from one another we were all delighted to have this opportunity for renewal of relationships. As fulfilling as time together was, we never forgot our mission to help in a variety of ways to support The Mountain in its work.

First, our congregation has rather informally ‘adopted’ cabin 12 with the thought of a facelift in the form of new curtains, new wall decorations, floor replacement, upgrading bathrooms, etc. A group of our men began the work only to discover that the cabin structure was severely compromised and that much of the sub-flooring and support beams needed to be replaced. Fortunately they have much experience and knowledge and were able to work with facilities manager Andy Harris to get those repairs made during our time there.

At the same time, the women were kept busy with a wide variety of chores. Several worked on making new curtains for the cabin. Many hours were spent taking inventory and cleaning and resupplying the custodian’s closets in the larger buildings. The ‘Rock Room,’ which provides storage space for housekeeping, was thoroughly reorganized after the removal of broken and useless items as well as outdated supplies. All these jobs were performed with washer and dryer running in the background, providing piles of sheets and towels to be properly folded and stored.

The dining hall and kitchen at The Mountain have been closed during the time of COVID. Five members of our group spent Thursday afternoon and Friday morning helping to prepare for the re-opening. The kitchen and all the equipment sparkled after a deep cleaning. The Community Room was cleaned and set up to function as a temporary dining room until renovations of the main dining hall are completed.

Between these larger jobs we were able to get some ‘little’ chores done also. And still we had time for music, stories, laughter, jigsaw puzzles, lots of food, and some adult beverages. All this was ours at that special and sacred place called The Mountain.

Any volunteer time is always appreciated by Beverly Cree, the interim director, as well as all the staff. Many thanks to: Marleen Trader, Kathy Farnsworth, Jeanette Walton, Joan Watterson, JP Flood and Jane Lawther, John Logue and Carolyn West, Glenn White and Ann Cargill, and Jim and Ginny Verne. Anyone interested in joining us next time is most welcome. For those who wish to help but who are unable to volunteer: Our work in cabin 12 has already consumed more funds than we have collected. Much work remains to be done. Any amount you might contribute will be greatly appreciated.

April Share the Plate Recipient: MIRCI

A beautiful virtual floral arrangement will fill the screen and a tribute will be read honoring the person or occasion. If you would like to send a picture of the person you are honoring, we will display it along with the flowers. If you have flowers growing in your yard to use for the floral picture, please include it.

Send an email request with a brief paragraph (50 words or less) of what you would like read and the Sunday date you would like recognized to Linda McLeod (kitchen@uucolumbia.org). She will get back with you with further instructions about payment of the $30 donation. Your contribution to the flower fund will be moved to Share the Plate at the end of the month.

Scheduling UUCC Zoom Meetings Delivered via UUCC Zoom Account

While the pandemic is preventing us from being physically together, we can still come together to enhance connections and further our spiritual growth, as well as conduct the business of our congregation.

The UUCC has obtained two Zoom licenses for congregational use. The following are the steps to schedule a UUCC Zoom meeting using these:

Check the UUCC calendar at <http://www.uucolumbia.dreamhosters.com/news/calendar/> to determine availability for a date/time. NOTE: Two meetings can be held simultaneously (Z1 and Z2). You can schedule a recurring meeting, e.g., every Thursday 4-5 p.m., but make sure all these slots are available throughout the time period.

Contact Andrea Dudick by email at uucc@uucolumbia.org to confirm date/time slot availability.

You will be contacted via email by a UUCC Zoom Host with access information. The host will work with you to determine the assistance you might require in hosting your Zoom meeting.

The host will start the meeting and stay on as needed or leave the meeting making you or a designee the host.

NOTE: Use of the Zoom accounts follows the established policy on building usage, i.e., the use must originate from a UUCC committee or be approved by the Board and the event must be placed on the official UUCC calendar by our Administrator, Andrea Dudick (uucc@uucolumbia.org).

Greetings from Romania

“Dear Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Columbia Friends, we are thinking of you. And sending you Many Easter Blessings.” Rev. Zsolt Solymosi

Zsolt has explained they are not meeting in their smaller, crowded room (familiar to UUCC pilgrims) due to Covid. The Lutheran Church has made available a larger meeting space for the present time. Should this arrangement continue, it is certain the rent paid by the Beszterce Unitarians will go up.

Please note, this year the UUCC Partner Church Committee sent an email Easter greeting. Ordinarily we send Easter cards. However, our customary Spring donation is on its way to them.

Visits, rides to medical appointments, shopping – all will be determined on a case by case basis with the safety of Caring Committee members and all members and friends of the congregation our primary concern. We are often able to help members and friends find community resources to fill the gaps in the services we usually provide in person. Moral support and a listening ear are always available.

The Seven Principles of Unitarian Universalism

Grateful for the religious pluralism that enriches and ennobles our faith, we are inspired to deepen our understanding and expand our vision. We covenant to affirm and promote:

1. The inherent worth and dignity of every person
2. Justice, equity, and compassion in human relationships
3. Acceptance of one another and encouragement of spiritual growth in our congregations
4. A free and responsible search for truth and meaning
5. The right of conscience and the use of the democratic process within our congregations and society at large
6. The goal of world community with peace, liberty, and justice for all
7. Respect for the interdependent web of existence of which we are a part

If these principles reflect your understanding of the world and appeal to your sense of spiritual fulfillment, we invite you to consider membership in the Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Columbia. If you would like to discuss membership or if you would simply like more information, please speak to any member of the Membership Committee or of the Board of Trustees.
